The Southern friends of the compromise of 1850 were eloquent in their commendation of this adjustment. For the sake of peace this adjustment should have been held as sacred as the Constitution itself. The radicals in both extremes denounced this compromise at the time, and finally they broke it down. No party, ex cept the Northern Democracy and the friends of Douglas in the South, supported the principle so important to the peace of the country. The President has been compelled to modify this proclamation as he did the previous ones mentioned. But, it seems to us that modification is hardly the thing. Gen. Hunter knew, as well as anything could be known. that the proclamation he made was contrary to the orders of his superior officer, as plainly shown before. The proclamation, therefore, is not only wrong, in one sense, but is a breach of discipline, and an insult. It is to be seen whether Mr. Linceln will tamely submit to such a course. Cowardice Charged on the Rebel Military Leaders at New Orleans.

[From the Mobile Evening News, April 30.] Among the several prominent acts of folly, inefficiency and mismanagement which have at different times and places disgraced the conduct of this war, the destruction of the Confederate fleet of gunboats in Lake Pontchartrain stands stupendously pre-eminent—unapproached and unapproachable by whatever has been done, or whatever may or can be done. Preferring for the present to charge this act to the account of folly or panic, rather than of treacheryand at present popular charge to be left to the proper tribunal to investigate-we account it the most mortifying, intensely humiliating and lamentable occurrence in connection with the loss of New Orleans. Ware treason palpably in the case, it would only excite hot and inspirating indignation, and we trust that it may be proved that our cause has been so stabbed by a knave or knaves rather than by a fool or fools. The ver-dict of a drumbead court martial should award the rope to the former or a bullet to the latter. Folly may be a man's misfortune, but it should not be allowed to be his country's misfortune. The laws do not recognize folly and stupidity as legal ex-emptions from responsibility for offenses; it is necessary for the good of society that necessary that for the good of our country the manifestations of folly should be accounted high military crimes.

Fools have oft pulled down empires that Solons and Cæsars have reared; wisdomean do great things, yet foolishness can undo them more rapidly. But fools, and espe-cially coward fools, can be controlled and through but one agency—that of fear. Let the summary punishment of the guilty, in this case, be an acute warning to other fools and cowards who may be in the military employ of the Confederacy.

In Lake Pontchartrain there was a fleet of half a dozen, more or less, effective gur-boats, and not an enemy's vessel in that inland sea. It's entrances were guarded by strong fortifications and on its waters floated a vast value of shipping. Across the lake the city of New Orleans can now be approached by the enemy's transport fleet, and an army can be landed at the city, or above the city at Pass Manchac, in the vicinity where the fugacious Lovell has "made a stand." Of what avail is it that the brave Dancan and his heroic command held the shattered forts on the Mississippi, Intelligence received from the Depart. stroyed, and merchant vessels can sail into ment of the South states that our army is the lake up to the city freighted with tens impatient at the kind of duty assigned of thousands of invaders. We presume that this is already being done by the active enemy, and we may resign the last faint nounce that Gen. Sumner has been relieved hopes that have been suggested on the basis from active service in consequence of his of the continued defense of the Mississippi refusal to reinforce Gen. Heintzelman at the forts keeping the troop transports at bay until some effort could be made to regain

New Orleans. We question very much if, after the exhausting struggle with the Mississippi forts which so redused their munitious, and in which they suffered so much loss, and with so much still to do in that river, the naval forces of the enemy could have sent a competent flotilla to reduce the Port hartrain works and fleet for weeks. Meantime something might have been done to "pluck the flower safety out of this nettle danger," could the Mississippi forts have held out.

And the matter may be viewed in another and quite as disgraceful an aspect. The gunboat fleet might have been saved and made available elsewhere. There was a route to Mobile, and, with it invitingly open, the vessels were burned. Merchant the rebels they could use the railroad in revessels and steamers showed the way, and treating homeward, and that they would run came through safely. Why did not these war vessels of the Confederacy also come? Bah! the thing is too disgusting for discussion! Let it never be brought up after it is necessarily so in order to the execution of him or those responsible for it. With that fleet added to our light draft squadron in Mobile Bay, we could make effective defense against the best efforts of the enemy. But, well-cheu, jam satis.

Bottom's Baidge -Gen. McClellan may probably, it seems to us, be delayed some days before Bottom's bridge-on the direct road to Richmond. We hear that its ap-proaches are not only densely wooded, but so swampy for miles on either side that the road through them is substantially of carpent. ry, and therefore easily destroyable. That, unstance, to essay to go around the head of the Chicahominy from that point, distant not more than fifteen miles from Richmond in a direct line, would involve a march of perhaps seventy-five miles through a difficult country, without water facilities for transportation. We believe it to be the policy of the rehels to delay bis army before Bottom's bridge uatil they may remove as much of their war material in Richmond as possible by rail to Danville, and get off as many of their troops by the same means of conveyance. It seems probable that our fleet will, however, interfere successfully to defeat that plan That is, if it has been pushed up within shelling distance of the city.

Washington Star, 15th. Corron .- Yesterday the streets were alive with drays and wagons hauling cotton from the depot to the river. It was a highly gratifying sight, and auspicious of happier Were Tennessee to return to her loyalty, and thus establish peace in her borders, cotton would be as remunerative to her as the tobacco ercp of Kentucky is profitable to that State. She would reap a harvest of gold, as well as of happiness, peace, and liberty. Let every man, then, labor for the universal restoration of the old flag in all our borders. Let us all retrieve the an errors of the past by being wiser for the future .- Nash. Union, 18th.

THEATER.—We were pleased to see such a large audience in attendance last night to welcome Miss Daly; and we are satisfied that not one was present who was not well repaid. While "Our Female American Cousin" is a character play of the sensation kind, it gives excellent opportunities for the display of Miss Daly's genius-has many nice points of sentiment, delicate wit, broad railery and pungent satire, and, taking into consideration that the play was written in England, by an Englishman, it is more just in its oriticisms of English manners and customs than was to have been expected. Of Miss Daly's performance in this play we cannot say too much. It is true to the idea advanced by the author, and full of beauties which none so well as she could depict. Her acting and singing, especially the latter, which she is equally at home.

It was becoming daily more evident that the plan of Gen. Halleck was to starve the rebels out of their intrenchments, and food and forage was already becoming fearfully scarce in the rebel army, the troops having for two or three weeks past been on half rations, and those of the coarsest qualty. This fact is ascertained beyond peradventure from the numbers of deserters who daily come into our camp and give themselves up. Recently a fine battery and about two hundred men came into our possession by the rebels reversing their arms and marching to our pickets and giving themselves up. Gen. Halleck is building substantial roads across the swamps and miry grounds between Pitteburg and Corinth, to facilitate the movement of troops and the heavy siege guns with which he intends to operate against the enemy's intrenchments. Our on the front, and within speaking distance of those of the enemy. Gen. Halleck is fortifying his position, and as he nears Corinth his works become stronger. WASHINGTON, May 18 .- The following is proclamation issued by the President of the United States to-day:

Whereas, the public press prints what purports to be a proclamation of Major General Hunter; and whereas, the same is producing some excitement and misunderstanding; therefore, I, Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States, proclaim that the Government of the United States had no knowledge or belief of an intention on the part of General Hunter to issue such of by some agent of the United States, and a proclamation; nor has it yet any authors being in transitu to be colonizaed. Re ized information that the document is genuine; and further, that neither Gen. Hunter laves of any State free, and that the supposed proclamation now in question, whether genuine or false, is altogether void, so far as respects such declaration. I further make known that, whether it to issue such proclamation. After discus-Chief of the Army and Navy to declare the ble to the maintenance of the Government to exercise such supposed power, are ques-tions which, under my responsibility, I re-serve to myself, and while I cannot feel satisfied in leaving to the decision of com-manders in the field. These are totally different questions from those of police regulations armies and in camps. On the sixth day of March last by a special message, I recommended to Congress the adoption of a joint resolution to be substantially as follows: Resolved, That the United States ought pensate for the inconvenience produced by such a change of system. The resolution, in the language above quoted, was adopted by a large majority in both branches of Congress, and now stands an authentic, definite and solemn proposal of the nation to States and people me terested in the subject matter. To the people of these States, now, I earnestly appeal and do not argue I beseech you to make the arguments for yourselves. WM. H. SEWARD, Washington, May 19.—No official report has been received from Com Goldsborough about the expedition up James river. comprised the steam frigate Susquehanna, three gunboats and the tug Yankee-the latter mounting one gun. They found the first rebel battery, at Dog's Point, deserted. The rebel flag was flying over our battery at Boarding Point, 15 miles above Newport News; but on landing, was found deserted; also, all rebel batteries between there and Jamestown, with guns mostly dismounted. Near James own we met the squadron under Com. Rogers, which had previously gone up the river, and learned from then the particulars of the fight at Fort Darling, and the disaster to the Naugatuck.

Goldsborough's expedition was last heard from Friday, and was still going up the river, securing most of the ordnanea left by the rebels. The general evacuation be low Fort Darling doubtless gives Golds. berough a chance to bring up mortar boats,

&c., to act effectively against the fort. James River and its banks are new clear of rebel soldiers. The Monitor and the Galena were the only vessels able to run by the Dog's Point and Harde's bluff batteries. The remainder of the fleet stopped below. Of 28 chots which struck the Galens, 18 penetrated. None did the Monitor any damage, all glancing off. Both returned down the river Friday last. The Galena is not materially injured. They doubtless followed Goldsboro Saturday up river. PHILADELPHIA, May 19 - The Bulletin contains the following additional from Fort Monros: The repulse of the gunboats is generally regarded as a very serious affair. On the Naugatuck 17 are reported killed by the explosion of the gun. The boat made a use less fight and recombined to the serious affair. On the latest styles as they appear in the market. We will pay particular attention in our selections for the Louisville market, and hone to receive a liberal architecture. less fight, and was withdrawn. The Galena was riddled with shots, and the loss is supposed to be heavy. The Menitor was struck repeatedly, but is said to be uninjured. Affairs at Norfolk are quiet. There have been some attempts lately to assassinate Union soldiers. Yesterday an affair eccurred creating some unessiness. Colonel Brown, of the 20th Indiana regiment, stationed at Portsmouth, went out of town in the morning to take a ride. Some time afterwards his horse came into town without his rider. It is feared the Colonel is killed or captured. Kansas City, May 19 -The Santa Femail with dates to the 3d has arrived. The Texans while retreating met a body of five hundred of their men under Colonel Steel at Adobe Wall, but the whole force continued to retreat.

The first regiment Colorado volunteers with the regulars, are at Fort Craig, under command of Paul. Gen. Canby and Gov. Connely are a Santa Fe. Owing to the scarcity of provisions, large quantities of which were destroyed to pre vent them from falling into the hands of the enemy, our troops have been placed on 50 bales Brown Domestics eight ounces per day.

yesterday to Kempsville, Gov. Wife's place. The town was found almost deserted. San Francisco, May 16 — The Legisla-ture adjourned sine die to-day, and Sacramento becomes the capital again. The steamer Golden Age sailed for Panama with 26 passengers and $550,000 in treasure for New York, and $220,000 for England.

RIVER MATTERS. The river is about at a stand, but with how much clear water in the canal it would be hard to say. The mark shows five feet five inches, but there is a good lepth of mud at the bottom, which materially reduces he water. There may be one foot-there may be two feet . We think it safe to say that there are not more than our feet depth of water.

We learn from the Cincinnati Commercial that Copt. Linas Logan died at his residence, in Newport, yesterday, after a long and rainful illness. He was one of our oldest steamboatmen, and an honest and honest able gentleman. He formerly commanded the steamers Mail, Hendrik Hudson, South America, Gen. Captain J. A. Lusk, of the Big Grey Eagle informs us that a new bar, of rather hage proportions, has been formed at the mouth of Bius river. The channel there is not wail developed and the Esgle lass right dragged pretty heavily in passing over it.

Captain Harry McDouzal of the Eugene, informs us that a new and bad bar is making at Packenpough's, from the great quantities of sand deposited there by the recent floods. The St. Louis Democrat of yesterday has the Into a converted into a ram—a least a statement to that effect is very general, and was made to us by one of her former officers. This steamer is very rapid, and has an excellent hull. The Choctaw was formerly a cotion boat Capt. David H. We are sure she will be a very formidable and successful ram.

Secondy-third Session of the Old School Church
COLIMBUS, O, May 17th, 1862.

I send you an abstract of Dr. Nevin's remarks to continue, we shall be involved in my last report:

LET US MAKE HISTORY.

The Rev. Dr. Nevin, who was appointed for the purpose, was heard in behalf of the Presbyterian Historical Society, located at Philadelphis. Hermarked that there was, as yet, nothing very old in this country, yet it was high time that a vigorous beginning about be made to collect and vigorous beginning about be made to collect and preserve the mementoes of our beloved church. This church, in its brief history, is replete with This church, in its brief history, is replete with This church, in Lancaster county, Pa., the Peguid Church, in Lancaster of the neighboring classical academy, under the care of the new treatment of the subclass of the neighboring classical academy, under the care of the new force of the total counties, of the same State, Dr. Cooper and Dr. Craighead, Pators of Middle Spring and Bailey Spring churches, and the subclass of the problem of the pro tions with which it is encured, and surve to make its glorious past reproduce itself in a still more glorious future. The fathers are gone, but thank God! their influence yet lives to animate thank God! their influence yet lives to animate thank of the more new on the scaffold, and Brethren, we want, for the purpose of preserving them, the old pamphiets which are about your houses from the pens of our noble dead; we want the pictures which now hang on your walls; we want their old sermons, which you may now have want their old sermons, which you may now have stowed away in your garret barrels; we want some of your money to help us to make our laudable efforts more comprehensive and efficient. Send them on to our rooms in Philadelphia, and let not this appeal in behalf of so important an interest be forgotten when the assembly adjourns and you refurn to your home.

Friday Afternoon Session. TO REVISE OR NOT TO REVISE.

Next to the itsms of business this afternoon

Next to the items of business this afternoon, forwarded yosterday, occurred a discussion on the motion to accept the report of revision of the discipline, by Dr. Breckinridge, with the recommendation to postpone decision till 1863.

Dr. Breckinridge thought the committee had done all it could. They were a tie on the adoption of the revised edition, printed by order, at Pittsburg. He regarded it as complete. The committee had been considering the subject five years, and if they could not now come to a definite conclusion, there was no prospect of attaining such a result, and he recommended the acceptance of the report, the discharge of the committee, and that the revised edition be either adopted or rejected by this body. He wished new life infused into the church, and regretted that it was not long since extended over New England.

Rev. Dr. McDonald, of Princeton, N. J., wished the report adopted and the subject postponed. He hoped the members would all have a copy of the revised edition, that they may privately study its provisions and be prepared to vote wisely upon it next year. He thought there was one item of doctrine involved, to-wit: Infant Baptism—that should be diligently considered, and hasty action should not be encouraged. In adopting the new book we shall lay aside the learning and wisdom of the fathers in the old one. The minds of our people are deeply interested in this matter, and there is too much turmoil in the mind of the country to make the conclusion of this question and there is too much turmoil in the mind of the country to make the conclusion of this question advisable at present.

Rev. H. K. Clarke, of Detroit, moved to recommit the report. He was opposed to postponement. There are three propositions involved, one of which will engage half the whole discus-

The other delicate points are—

2. Shall a rule be adopted in reference to young converts affording any mode of egress from the church door by excommunication.

3. Whether an inferior court shall be allowed to sit in a superior court in the determination of this question?

There is an analysis of the contract of the court is an analysis of the court is a purchase.

There is so much of questionable matter in the report that it will be impossible to adjust it without a reference to another committee for a more logical revision. There are many inadvertancies in the revised edition in spite of the profound learning and eminent ability of the Committee. It takes small men as well as large ones to make a committee order it was a large ones to make a complete code of laws. It requires a microscopic eye as well as a far-seeing one to notice minute, though essential, as well as the larger objects that make the whole. The suggestions of the Presbyteries should not be disragarded.
Dr. Junkin was for postponement. What if we have seent five years on the revisior: the subject have spent five years on the revision: the subject is of such vast importance that we should give it farther time. There is not knowledge enough in this body to decide at this session. The Chair-man of the Committee has worked his brain into such metaphysical applicants that he is incomble such metaphysical soptisms that he is incapable of logical reasoning on this subject. He had lis-tened to discussions till he was ashamed of the capacity of man.* He wanted no change of discipline now, for every change in the organic law of any body is a loss of power. He could make alterations in the U. S. Constitution, as, for example, in the preamble, "We the psople, in the name of God," as it is in the Constitution of the Southern Confederacy. but he would get Southern Confederacy; but he would not even suggest them, at least until our recreant sisters had returned to our political bosom. Do not recommit, but postpone to the next session, and if the national troubles shall continue, postpone it again. The old and the new books should be printed in parallel columns to facilitate examination Dr. Musgrave was in favor of the proposition to postpone. The Committee are as wise men as can be found on earth, but they will not claim infallibility. It would be trifling with the Presbyterie not to listen to their suggestions.

Rev. Mr. Paxton, of Pittsburg, said this discussion was under a misapprehension of the idea of the Committee. The new book of discipline is of the Committee. The new book of discipline is not reported—only a recommendation that decisive action be postponed. The Presbyteries made suggestions to the Committee, but the Chairman said they need not be read, for they would not change their minds.

Rev. Mr. Dolittle said that his Presbytery could not investigate the new book for want of time, and there were probably others that have not as yet been able to give it requisite attention. Mr. Clarke withdrew his motion to recommit, and the postponement was carried.

Dr. Jackson moved for the printing of the old and new books in parallel columns, pending the consideration of which the hour arrived for religious exercises, after which adjourned till tomorrow at 6 o'clock.

morrow at 6 o'clock.

Saturday moroing session opened with prayer from the Moderator, Dr. Beaty, who offered up the first invocation of the first two dave, and a score of prayers for the President of the United States and his cabinet. He also implored God to bring our country out of her present calamitier, and establish power on such principles as shall accord with His will. The word treason to the Government, nor even disloyalty, we believe, has not yet been mentioned in either prayers, sermons, or speaches mentioned in either prayers, sermons, or speeches. Verily, these hearts seem to have congealed their patriotism.

After reading the minutes, the first business was the hearing of certain overtures from the Pres-byteries. One from she Pretbytery of Huntingdon touching the embarrassed position of Rev. Mr. Lawson, who was compalled, by political troubles, about ten months since, to leave the Lexington Presbytery, and had not been able to get his discharge from that body. His case was provided for.

charge from that body. His case was provided for.

Some other unimportant overtures were also passed upon, when the Assembly took up the question of the next place of meeting of the Assembly. Washington, D. C., Trenton, N. J., Louisville, Ky., and Peoria, Ill., were suggested. Dr. Tustin, of Washington, gave a few reasons why the meeting should be held in that city. It was the second on the list last year; it would be in the order of rotation, for within the last few years the assembly had met in Lexington, Ky., Nashville, Tenn, Indianapolis, Ind., and now in Ohio. It has met in New York, Philadelphia, Buffalo, and in Charleston, the punctum soliens of the rebellion, and it struck him that it should now meet in Washington. The brethren would find it interesting to look upon the fortifications that have been built there.

Dr. Junkin—But suppose Jeff Davis should have possession?

Dr. Junkin—But suppose Jeff Davis should have possession?

Dr. Tustin—We will look out for that. And if any brother wishes to have his patriotism chastened, he can get in a car, and in an hour stand on the plains of Manasses, or, on the other hand, if he desires to add a little to the fire of his patriotism, he can step on board a steambost and go down to Mt. Vernon, and look upon the sarcophagus that contains the last remains of the Father of his country; or he can go down on the Potomac and look upon the battle-field of the Merrimac and look upon the mesoleum of the rebellion, and read this exitaph: Hic jacet secessia. (Some indications of disapprobation, even an approach to a hiss from two or three leading members, one of whom, at least, is a free-state member.) And in Washington all could see the man to whom thousands of patriotic hearts are twined in approbation and love but little below that man who was "first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen." (Increased commotion and disapprobation.)

Dr. Christian, of Philadelphia, spiritedly interrupted the speaker. He didn'r wish to be disrespectful, but if the Moderator allowed this course of remark to continue, we shall be involved in an Inpleasent agitation.

Dr. Tustin—I am done.

Dr. Christian—I am glad of it.

Dr. Christian—I am glad of it.
The vote was then taken as follows:
Washington, 74; Louisville, 9; Peoria, 94, and Newark, 54. The vote was then to be taken on the two highest, whereupon, Dr. Junkin wished to know about the facilities for entertainment in Peoria.

Dr. Robinson, of Kentucky, (sideways). "How thoroughly Eastern that is."
Rev. M. Lockwood said, that Peoria contained about 15,000 people, who were honestly for the West, but large hearted, and would afford abundant hospitality.

The vote resulted in a 152 majority for Peoria as the next place of meeting.

DYEING, SCOURING, AND TAILORING ESTABlishment, is on Jefferson street, north side, between Third and Fourth, No. 316, where the above named work is done in a style that surpasses anything in this community. Owners feel disappointed when they see their old clothes; they present a very different appearance for a reasonable consideration.

Those philosophers who insist that dress makes the man, can put their philosophy to the test at a very triding expense, by calling at J. H. MONTGOMERY'S establishment. Those who have dilappitated wardrobes would do well to have them pass through my hands:
they will find it profitable by so doing. All work placed in my care is done with neatness and dispatch.

All kinds of Clothing made to order on the shortest notice and most reasonable terms.
I feel grateful to the community for their liberal pa tronage, and I flatter myself that I have given satisfaction, or else I could not have the ever-crowd of work that is daily brought to my shop; and the cry is, "Still they come." It is the whole cry. If you want your work done right, go to Montgomery's; there you will be pleased, for he is the one that can do it. Let those belonging to the fraternity bring their work along, and have it done in a handsome style.

"LOUISVILLE REAPER."

DESCRIPTION OF THE "LOUISVILLE REAPER."

THIS MACHINE WEIGHS 800 POUNDS, CUTS 61/4 FEET WIDE, AND FROM 4 TO 24 INCHES HIGH. IT IS OF LIGHT DRAFT, AND WITHOUT APPARENT side-draft. It will cut, under favorable circumstances, from 15 to 25 acres per day. There is no driver's seat on the Machine; this lessens the weight, and leaves all the gearing and boxes convenient for olling or adjusting. The driver rides the horse on the opposite side from the cutiers, and is in no danger of being run over, should he accidentally fail. The gearing is all secured in an iron frame; the bearings are iong and secure from diff. With eart this part of the Machine will last for many years. The high-cut of the "Louisville Resper" saves the bandling of a large portion of the heaviest part of the straw, and the forker lays off the grain in perfect bundles, about the ordinary low-cut Machines, which are not capable of doing over one-half the amount of work per day. The change from lowest to highest cut can be maby two persons in one minute. Farmers who usually have had to spend a half hour in making this change will appreciate this improvement. A lever extends from tongue to the frame to give the platform the proper inclination. The Machine is perfectly balanced. There is no weight upon the horses necks, except the tongue an neck yoke.

"LOUISVILLE

DESCRIPTION OF THE "LOUISVILLE MOWER."

THIS MACHINE IS MADE ALMOST ENTIRELY OF IRON: IT IS EXCEEDINGLY COMPACT AND SIMPLE, AND STRONG BEYOND ANY POSSIBILITY OF obstructions, or for moving from field to field. It is arranged to throw itself out of gear when backing, and is convenient to bandle in every respect. It weighs about 600 subject. The tongue is loose, and there is no weight on the horses' neck. PRICE ..

Office of Kentucky Agricultural Works, Market Street, between Preston and Jackson. We commenced the manufacture of Harvesters last season, with the belief that we could furnish Machines better suited to the wants of our Farmers than any already introduced. Our plan is to make separate, not combined, Machines; when made for the special purpose, they can be simple, cheap, and durable, while combined they are necessarily complex and costly, and generally, after one season's use, out of order. We made but few Machines for last barvest, but those, so far as heard from performed well, as the certificates which we offer in our descriptive circular, from those who have had experience with Harvesters, will show.
